The risks include, among other things: slips and falls; pinches, scrapes, twists and jolts that could result in cuts, scratches, bruises, sprains, lacerations, fractures, or concussions; hazards of walking on uneven terrain; water hazards; accidental drowning; capsize or entrapment; whitewater rapids will be encountered; collision with fixed or moveable objects or other watercraft; contact with food boxes, other storage containers, or other fixed equipment necessary to the operation of the expedition and the outfitting of the raft; "washed" overboard resulting in having to swim rapids risking collision with rocks and entanglement in trees; musculoskeletal injuries including head, neck, and back injuries; exposure to temperature and weather extremes which could cause cold water shock, hyperthermia (heat related illnesses), heat exhaustion, sunburn, dehydration; strong wind, cold, storms, large waves, eddies, whirlpools, and lightning; exposure to potentially dangerous wild animals, insect bites, and hazardous plant life; loss or damage to equipment being used; equipment failure and/or operator error; improper lifting or carrying; being lost or separated from their guides or companions; the negligence of participants, or other persons who may be present; accidents or illness can occur in remote places without medical facilities and emergency treatment or other services rendered; transmissible pathogen or disease; consumption of food or drink; my own physical condition, and the physical exertion associated with this activity.

Furthermore, ETC personnel have difficult jobs to perform. They seek safety, but they are not infallible. They might be unaware of a participant's fitness or abilities. They might misjudge the weather, other environmental conditions. They may give incomplete warnings or instructions, and the equipment being used might malfunction.

2. I expressly agree and promise to accept and assume all of the risks existing in this activity.
